PIERRE YAVANOVITCH

The French interior designer transformed a staid Belgian home—originally built for an aristocratic family back in 1910—into a sophisticated space with a dramatic picture window in the kitchen as a spectacular highlight. In the kitchen, a cone pendant light by RU Editions hangs over a bespoke stone-topped island. The sink and fittings are by Dornbracht. The counter stool is by Mark Albrecht Studio and the range is by La Cornue. The sculpture against the window is by Stephan Balkenhol.
